

TOGETHER WE CAN SAVE THE PLANET!

We understand that saving the planet is a complex matter, but we all can help with small daily changes in both private and corporate level. Within the framework of Corporate Social Responsibility, Luxury Suites Amsterdam constantly tries to adapt to an eco-friendly way of operation by engaging in a greener administration and collaborating with other environmental initiatives.

Our initiatives

As part of our green consciousness, we have employed a number of small changes that add to the greater cause of saving the planet. During the past few months, we managed to eliminate the use of paper in both administrative and operative levels. Being paperless has been achieved through the use of digital operating systems and software that facilitate our operation. For example, we no longer process reservations, check-ins, and check-outs with the use of paper. Instead, we handle these digitally, consuming much less paper and energy.

Sustainability is key

Not only have we changed our operational system, but we've also made some in-room changes for the sake of the environment. For starters, we've been replacing conventional lamps in the hotel with led lamps for less energy consumption. Also, we encourage our guests not to change their towels daily by installing towel racks to keep their towels dry and ready to re-use them.

Finally, we go against food waste culture that has been popular within Hotel industry. Instead of having a breakfast buffet with lots of food ending up in the garbage, we are among the few hotels that offer an à la cart breakfast menu. In this way, we consume only the goods and energy that needs to be consumed, saving valuable resources.
